RICHLANDS.

Last April we began to advertise our town lots, making at that time a number of statements in regard to what we would do. Through the non-completion of the Clinch Valley extension of the Norfolk and Western our railroad facilities at that time were very limited. We had no railroad station and, indeed, one old farmhouse was the total sign of life about the place. Since then the railroad has erected a fine brick and stone freight station, one of the largest on the road, and will shortly erect a fine passenger station, while the Clinch Valley Company has spent, or is under contract to expend, $350,000. A four-story hotel, the finest in Southwest Virginia, is under roof; a handsome iron bridge, of 180 feet span, crosses the Clinch river; two second-class hotels have been built, and a large number of stores are building under contract. The company has erected a handsome three-story building for its offices, and a fine stone bank building is nearing completion. Machinery for the rolling mill is on the grounds, and the track to the coal mines, three miles away, is completed, and coal is now coming out. A steam brick plant, the most complete in Southwest Virginia, is in operation, and a large amount of grading and other work is going on. This work attracts a great deal of attention, while Richlands is merely at the end of a non-completed line. The completion of the Clinch Valley division this fall, and the running of through trains between Washington and Louisville, putting Richlands immediately on a through line, will give an impetus to the prosperity of the town sufficient to throw it ahead of all competitors, and the attention of investors is called to real estate here as giving greater promise than any town in Southwest Virginia.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

What People are Doing In and Out of Roanoke.

A number of Roanoke people were in it yesterday—the fall overcoat. The thermometer took a big tumble.

William Lunsford left last night for New York, where he will take a steamer Saturday for England. He will be absent several months, and will visit all the places of interest on the Eastern continent.

The Friendship Fire Company will hold a meeting at their reel house tonight at 7.30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

Robert Dillard and Lizzie Harris obtained a marriage license at the clerk's office yesterday.

At the company's inspection to-night the Light Infantry will turn out about sixty men. They are very well drilled.

Lieutenant B. A. Rives, of this city, who sailed for South America some time ago, has telegraphed home announcing his safe arrival at Rio Janeiro.

G. E. Webb and his bride have returned from their bridal tour.

The ladies of Boon's Mill will give a rainbow party and festival at that place to-morrow night, the proceeds to be used for church purposes.

J. A. Price, of Auditor Bainsford's office, has succeeded S. E. Smith as station agent at Basic City, on the Shenandoah Valley railroad. Mr. Smith was transferred to Bristol, Tenn.

Eighty-three wagons paid the cartage tax at the market house yesterday morning, and $11.70 was put in the treasury of the city.

The tables in the handsome billiard parlor of Marshall's Cafe have been furnished with elegant new coverings.

Mr. M. L. Camper, of Fincastle, was in the city yesterday.

There was not an arrest made yesterday up to 5 o'clock.

Mr. Edgar R. Crewe, of Danville, who has been visiting the family of Mr. Alex. McD. Smith, will return home this morning. It is probable that he will come back again and go in business.

Mr. C. W. C. Woolwine will leave this morning for Omaha to attend the National Convention of Funeral Directors.

J. W. Smith, of Pittsylvania county, is visiting his brothers, L. E. Smith and D. A. Smith, of this city.

Mr. E. M. Clark, of the firm of Clark & Walker, brokers, left last night for Charleston, W. Va., for a few days' visit.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Campbell left yesterday evening for Blacksburg to attend the Presbytery in session there.

P. C. Beall, of Frostburg, Md., a brother of Olin Beall, of the Roanoke Iron Company, is in the city.

Judge William Gordon Robertson, of the Hustings Court, is on a visit to friends in Botetourt county.

"Penalty" Again.

Penalty was again presented at the Opera House last night and pleased equally as well as the first appearance. The dancing of Ed Gallagher was the best thing in the show. The audience was not so large as on the first night, but there was a fair house.

Representative Alderson Invests.

Hon. John D. Alderson, Representative in Congress from the Third district of West Virginia, was in Roanoke Wednesday and put some money in Roanoke real estate.

HE WAS A PROFESSIONAL.

And Worked the Hotel for a Quarter and Spent It for Beer.

A professional tramp arrived in Roanoke last night. He had on an old felt hat, pulled well down over the eyes, his elbows were turned out and his thumbs in. When he slouched into the Continental he looked the typical tramp. He was tough and didn't try to hide the fact. After looking over the crowd in the lobby he singled out a gentleman and addressed him thus: "Say, bud, can't yer give her a dime?" The person viewed him a moment and gave a negative reply. "Well, I don't give er blank if yer don't. See?" "You are from New York, I know. Have you ever been down to the island?" "Well, yer bet I have. I've done time there often, and I know Fatty Walsh, too. I've been in his boarding house several times." Walsh is keeper of the Tombs at New York.

Seeing that he could get no money from this man the tramp approached the clerk for a quarter. After talking with him a while the clerk promised to give him a quarter if he would not get whiskey with it. This he agreed to and the money was given. About ten minutes later he was seen to enter the bar. The clerk and the gentleman followed and found him guzzling beer. When he saw them standing in the doorway he quickly inquired: "Well, gents, what yer drinking. Come join me. This is not whiskey. Oh, I tell yer I'm er professional, I am."

When reaching for the glass of beer the tramp's dirty hands were seen to be bruised. The clerk asked if it was from work. The tramp looked horrified and said: "Work! well, yer can just gamble on it's not being that. I got those wounds riding on the trucks. I had just as soon be there as anywhere and a box-car, either end or side door, is just as good as one of George Pullman's cars. Come, have a drink. No' well, so long. I've got to strike a freight fer Lynchburg."

Mayor's Court.

There was quite a falling off in the number of cases at the mayor's court yesterday morning and his honor had little to do. The following were disposed of:

John Hagan, of Carnegie, drunk on the streets, fined $2.50.

William Hickman, disturbing the quiet and good order of the city, fined $2.50.

Catherine Seay, drunk, fined $3.

Storer, leaving a team unattended, fined $1.

William Dull and James Johnson, fighting on the street, fined $2 each.

Henry Jones, disturbing the quiet and good order of the city, fined $7.

Catherine Seay, larceny, fined $5.

William Cooper, disturbing the quiet and good order of the city, fined $5.

The Parochial School.

The Catholic Parochial School, which opened September 14, now has an enrollment of sixty pupils. The attendance is much larger than at this time last year, and there are many more children who will enter within the next few weeks. There is plenty of room in the building, and many more pupils can be accommodated. The work of the school is moving on satisfactorily.

For the Emancipation Celebration.

A mass-meeting of colored citizens will be held at the A. M. E. Hall, on Peach Hill, next Monday night, the 29th, in behalf of the National Emancipation Celebration to be held at Richmond in October. Speakers from Richmond, Lynchburg and this city will address the meeting.

Roofing It In.

The roof is being put on the new African Methodist Church, near the colored school. The basement which is to be fitted up for a school-room, will soon be ready for use.

A complete stock of the best pianos and organs on the market can always be found at the Hobbie Music Company's, Lynchburg, Va. This old established house fully merits the high reputation it enjoys of selling only reliable instruments; you will find it to your interest to examine their stock before purchasing.
